

Engineer Roghaye Mirzababaloo

Engineer Roghaye Mirzababaloo is a Architectural Engineer from Sura University and Master of Architectural Engineering and PhD student in Islamic Azad University. she is a well-known expert in the hedquarters of Buildings and Facilities that his design and reconstruction, from the viewpoint of viewers, is always beautiful and eye-catching. These include the design and reconstruction of Molla Sadra central restaurant (location used in the Ashpazbashi series), the Place of ablution in the mosque of Bilal, the Sports Hall of the IRIB univercity, the Tomb of the Martyrs of Jamaran Station, the Rigai and the Studios of Saba Hill and ... Cited. He is also the responsible of the IPTV project in the Glass building, Amphitheater of Urumieh Center and other projects in the our organization. Engineer babaloo is currently a member of the Supervision team at Imam Ali data Center project. his research activities are renewable energy sources in sustainable urban development, urban recreation of basic culture with the sustainable urban development approach, strategies for using the geometric system of Iranian architecture in urban buildings, the role of literature and Islamic philosophy in the evolution of Iranian architectural forms And recognition of the discipline and formation of urban landscapes in the Pahlavi era. Engineer Mirza Bargalo is also a lecturer in architecture courses in the organization. The title of his speech at the fifteenth session is "Renewable Energy in Sustainable Architecture."