

Engineer Nima Vahid Roodsari

Nima Vahid Roussiari was born in 1364 and is a master of electrical control from Islamic Azad University. He is one of the engineers in the headquarters of Building and Facilities who has been active in the field of electrowinning rectifiers (EW) and energy system management (EMS) in private companies and in the IRIB. his major activities included: the installation and operation of rectifiers for the electrowinning unit at the Sirjan copper leaching plant, the implementation of a monitoring system for the electric energy consumed to monitor energy in the our organization's facilities. His article titled "Energy Management in Lighting Equipment" has been published in the Scientific Journal of the Technical deputy of IRIB. The title of his speech at the fifteenth meeting is "Standards and Requirements for LED Lighting".